Case Series And Art Corner

 @emumsa.msanc

- Each week, we share one infection, disease or genetic anomaly common in our region and ways of preventing and treating it if possible as a unknown case. Furthermore, we also share information about some well known medical procedures, their indications and contraindications. The information we tend to share is suitable for everyone (medical and non-medical students).
  - Also each week, we share moovie or book suggestions that you may like.
  - You can follow us on social media to view those series in a more fun way. Educate yourself and help us spread awareness!
